

Skyward

Skyward is a Brazilian hard rock band. João Gabriel Torres (vocals) and Samuel Toledo (guitars), in their teens, were part of the heavy metal band named “Higher”, where in addition to their original tunes, took on some cover of bands like “Stryper” and “Angra”. At the time, João took on the drumsticks and double bass pedals. Already with a hidden dream of becoming a vocalist, but still without much skill to do so, he ventured only to record the guides of the compositions for the bands vocalist. Samuel, the youngest of the band, used to come in through the backdoors of the concert halls to go up on the stage, because he was a underaged. 13 years later, in 2017, João, now on vocals, and Samuel, decided to continue the musical venture and start the band Skyward. During 2 years of composing, recording and mixing, in 2019 they release, independently, the first single "Hitchhiker" and in 2020 they already have 6 more singles available on all digital services.
